Wrapping Up the Year With New Products

New CDs Available in the Library

The Library has added a number of new or updated CD-ROMs to the collection.

Chase's 1998 Calendar of Events brings you dozens of reasons to celebrate each day of the year. The 41st edition in print and CD-ROM lists over 12,000 sponsored events, birthdays, holidays, and special observances.

Chase's CD-ROM version provides a pop-up subject search menu, keyword access, and the ability to search all events and birthdays by an entire month. Sponsored events are searchable by date and location. The information can be saved to a disk or printed on paper.

The 1997 State Profile Series on CD-ROM is published by Woods and Poole Economics, Inc. It contains historical data from 1970 and projections to 2020 of population by age and race, employment by industry, personal income by source, households by income bracket, and retail sales by type of business. The data and projections are for every county and MSA in a particular state.

Wilson Web Trial

Beginning in January and through the end February the Library will again be testing H. W. Wilson's Social Science Abstracts Full Text web site. This time access to the database will be available through the Library's Intranet page databases. From the cww.census.gov home page, click on L, select the Library, and then click on the databases button.

The database includes over 400 English-language journals with 112 select publications available in full text. It is designed to help users keep up with the latest concepts, theories, and methodologies in all areas of the social sciences. Subject areas covered include ethnic and minority studies, geography, international relations, family studies, policy sciences, political science, and urban studies. The service is updated twice weekly.

The Library is seeking feedback on the trial of this web accessible Wilson database. Please call the Reference department at 301-457-2511 with your comments or send an e-mail to Library@ccmail.census.gov.

Intranet Page Additions

The new year will also bring additional Web links to the Library's Intranet pages.

Under news resources we've added the major regional newspapers in cities where the Census field offices are located. The Dallas Morning News, Denver Post, Seattle Times, Boston Globe, Kansas City Star, Philadelphia Enquirer & the Daily News, Charlotte Observer, and the Atlanta Journal Constitution are now available on-line.

Two sites added to the legal resources are a congressional directory and Legislative Process: How Our Laws Are Made. Business information can now be searched using the Library's reference resources links to Hoover's company information and the Fortune 500 list.

Book Bag

Book titles that may be of interest to Bureau staff members, but that are not currently available in the library, are as follows:

Berinstein, Paila. Finding Statistics Online. Greenwich, CT: Manning Publications, 1997. 250p. $29.95.

Explains how to find statistics through professional systems and services on the Internet, and includes information on the nature of statistics and how to evaluate their validity.

Capaldi, Nicholas (ed.). Immigration: Debating the Issues. New York: Prometheus Books, 1997. 250p. $16.95. Presents arguments over immigration, brought about by the influx of illegal aliens crossing U.S. borders and entering major cities.

Heubusch, Kevin. Life in America's Small Cities. New York: Prometheus Books, 1997. 550p. $34.95.

Supplies information on 193 U.S. "micropolitan" areas--cities with 15,000 to 50,000 residents--and grades each community on its performance in economics, education, housing, health care, transportation, and other areas.

Hovey, Harold A. State Fact Finder. Washington, DC: Congressional Quarterly Books, 1997. 408p. $44.95.

Provides hundreds of social, political, and economic facts about the 50 states and the District of Columbia, with tables for state-by-state comparisons.

Higham, John (ed.). Civil Rights and Social Wrongs: Black-White Relations Since World War II. University Park, PA: Pennsylvania State University Press, 1997. 224p. $28.50.

Provides essays by ten leading scholars that assess the civil rights movement and how it led to affirmative action, multiculturalism, stalemate, and discontent.

Kurian, George Thomas. Global Data Locator. Lanham, MD: Bernan Press, 1997. 400p. $89.

Presents detailed bibliographic information on reference titles published by international organizations, such as the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization, and many others.

Martin, Linda G., and Beth J. Soldo (eds.). Racial and Ethnic Differences in the Health of Older Americans. Washington, DC: National Academy Press, 1997. 450p. $45.

Examines trends in mortality rates and selected causes of disability (cardiovascular disease, dementia) for older people of different racial and ethnic groups.

Mitchell, Susan. The Official Guide to the Generations. Ithaca, NY: American Demographics, 1997. 400p. $69.95. Explores the lifestyles and attitudes of age groups and the four generations of U.S. adults--the World War II Generation, the Swing Generation, the Baby Boom Generation, and Generation X.

Schneier, Bruce, and David Banisar. The Electronic Privacy Papers: Documents on the Battle for Privacy in an Age of Surveillance. New York: Wiley Computer Publishing, 1997. $59.99.

Annotates documents from both government and industry that provide understanding of government policies and how they will impact individuals and companies.

Sheared, Vanessa. Race, Gender, and Welfare Reform: The Elusive Quest for Self-Determination. Hamden, CT: Garland Publishing, 1997. 200p. $50.

Examines how welfare reform has affected African Americans, particularly women.

Smith, James P., and Barry Edmonston (eds.). The New Americans: Economic, Demographic, and Fiscal Effects of Immigration. Washington, DC: National Academy Press, 1997. 500p. $49.95.

Identifies the economic gains and losses from immigration, for the nation, states, and local areas, and provides a foundation for public discussion and policymaking.

Williams, Garnett P. Chaos Theory Tamed. Washington, DC: National Academy Press, 1997. 384p. $34.95.

Explores the concept of chaos as a relatively new arm of science, drawing from mathematics, physics, and statistics, and builds understanding of the role of chaos in our lives.

Question of the Month

What are some databases and research gateways Bureau staff can access at their own desktops?

In addition to the research services provided by Reference Librarians in the Census Bureau Library, Bureau staff can now access several databases from their own desktops via the Census Bureau Library Intranet homepage and the World Wide Web. The Library currently provides access to ProQuest Direct, a database of journal articles in full text which can be printed out from the Netscape browser. ProQuest Direct is a particularly good tool for locating business related articles. This resource may be reached on the Library Intranet homepage by clicking on the "databases" icon.

CARL/UnCover

Bureau staff can also search for article citations and short abstracts on the Internet by using a World Wide Web service called CARL/UnCover. This free database allows a searcher to locate article citations from a wide variety of subject areas including the social sciences. The UnCover database covers over 17,000 journals and can be searched by keyword, author, or journal title. Searchers can also scan the title pages of journals to browse issues for additional useful articles. Bureau staff who search this database can contact either the Interlibrary Loan Department or the Reference Department in the Library to obtain the corresponding article for the citation they find in Uncover. To connect to CARL/UnCover on the World Wide Web use the following URL address: <http://uncweb.carl.org>. Once connected to CARL/UnCover click on the "Search the UnCover Database" link, then the "Search UnCover Now" icon.

Library of Congress Gateway

The Library of Congress contains a diverse collection of books and resources. Frequent users of the Internet may be aware of some of the resources on the Library of Congress Web site such as Thomas and the American Memory Project but they should also be aware of a special library catalog search gateway. The "Z39.50" search page allows for searching not only the Library of Congress collection, but also several international, university, and public libraries. Among the catalogs that may be searched are the library catalogs at Pennsylvania State University, University of Wisconsin, Yale University, the Cleveland Public Library, Arlington County Public Library, and Anne Arundel County Public Library. Connect to this useful gateway to other libraries by typing in the following URL address in your Netscape browser: <http://lcweb.loc.gov/z3950/gateway.html>.

Washington Research Library Consortium

As an alternative to searching the Library of Congress database and library gateway, Bureau staff can search several local university library catalogs at the same time using the Aladin system on the World Wide Web. Aladin contains the combined catalogs of American University, Catholic University, George Mason University, George Washington University, Marymount University, and the University of the District of Columbia. The "CATS" database of books may be searched by typing in the following URL address in your Netscape browser: <http://www.aladin.wrlc.org>. Then click on "CATS:The Online Catalog."

Searching the ProQuest Direct database on the Census Bureau Library homepage, the CARL/UnCover citation database, the Library of Congress Z39.50 catalogs, and the Aladin system on the World Wide Web can help Bureau staff identify helpful resources and speed their research. Once resources have been identified the Library's Interlibrary Loan Department can obtain them from other libraries. Bureau staff may contact the Interlibrary Loan Department at 301-457-2484 or send an e-mail to Library@ccmail.census.gov.

The Library is constantly on the lookout for useful Internet resources to increase services to Bureau staff. The Reference Department maintains a file of particularly helpful and current information sites on a variety of topics in addition to the resources available on the Library's Intranet page. Reference Librarians can also assist Bureau staff in constructing searches.

Please contact the Reference Department at 301-457-2511 or send an e-mail to Library@ccmail.census.gov if you have any questions or need assistance conducting research on the Internet.
